[Verse 1]

Deep within another sin
Trick the eye, deceive and lie
Well I guess you're like the rest
It all comes naturally
Inhale, you're up for sale
In a veil you derail, exhale
Take a fake, you twist and brake
Smoke and mirrors, is that all there's to you?

[Verse 2]

Try in vain to explain again
But I knew that this is who
Yeah I knew that this is you
No veil will ever last
Behind a twisted mind
Justify with another lie
While you wept, you found your depth
Smoke and mirrors, is that all there's to you?
Is that all there's to you?

[Chorus]

They will see who (you are)
They will see you (I say)
They will see who you really are
They will see through (your lies)
They will see in (your eyes)
You will see that you can't hide what you're made of

[Verse 3]

Read that look like an open book
In broad daylight you can't avoid what's right
You can't be subtle through the bottom of a bottle
It all comes suddenly
Exposed, what you fear the most
A simple fact what they have lacked
It's funny how we pray and bow
Smoke and mirrors, that is all there's to you
That is all there's to you

[Chorus]

They have seen who (you are)
They have seen you (I say)
They have seen who you really are
They have seen through (your lies)
They have seen in (your eyes)
You have seen that you can't hide what you're made of

[Stick]
Someone once said to me
They'll all show what they're made of

[Chorus]
They have seen who (you are)
They have seen you (I say)
They have seen who you really are
They have seen through (your lies)
They have seen in (your eyes)
You have seen that you can't hide what you're made of
