He feels emotions flow, the sun is rising slow
He makes her blue eyes glow, he just wanted to know Things round him has been a mess, she cured his sickness
And I guess what he feels now, scares her somehow

But I know she'll be alright
If he could shine up tonight
And just hold her tight

This is a place for rent
Where it all begins again
And what he's about to say
Scares her and away

But I'll know she'll be alright
If he could shine up tonight
And just hold her tight
