I don't need an explanation
I'll settle for just a sound
I was looking for attention Baby this is what I found

Love has left your eye, there is no need for you to lie, baby love has left your eye
Love has left your eye, no matter how we try, baby
everything will die
Love has left your eye and the fire went out, like a fading star
Like my black hole heart, light-years apart, in a world
gone dark
Love has left your eye, there is no need for you to lie,
baby love has left your eye

You were looking for perfection
I'm glad I let you down And God knows there is no protection Cauze this is what I found

Love has left your eye, there is no need for you to lie,
baby love has left your eye
Love has left your eye, no matter how we try, baby
everything will die
Love has left your eye and the fire went out, like a
fading star
Like my black hole heart, light-years apart, in a world
gone dark
And the fire went out, like a fading star
Like my black hole heart, light-years apart
And the fire went out, like a fading star
Like my black hole heart, light-years apart, in a world
gone dark
Love has left your eye, there is no need for you to lie,
baby love has left your eye
Love has left your eye, no matter how we try, baby
everything will die
