I used to walk around like nothing could happen to me
Life is a gamble so I should live life more carefully
But all I know is that I control my own destiny
I used to look at others instead of me being me

Don't ask yourself why
Just look to the sky
Believe so that you'll see the other side
Cuz

I know that through all the struggle
There's a bright road at the end of the tunnel
And now you should know
Whatever your dilemma may be
You'll learn life is worth it watch the tables turn

Whenever you feel troubled
When problems coming your way
Don't ever get discouraged
There's always another day
We all don't know the answers
Believe and trust when I say
That having faith is always
The way to make things okay

Don't ask yourself why
Just look to the sky
Believe so that you'll see the other side

I know that through all the struggle
There's a bright road at the end of the tunnel
Now you should know
Whatever your dilemma may be
You'll learn life is worth it watch the tables turn

That's right
Ahright

You've had your ups and downs but
It happened for a reason
Cuz after april showers

There will come a change of season

So please don't give up now
Cuz suns shining through the clouds
It's gonna be alright
Cuz i know

I know that through all the struggle
There's a bright road at the end of the tunnel
And now you should know
Whatever your dilemma may be
You'll learn life is worth it watch the tables turn

I know that through all the struggle
There's a bright road at the end of the tunnel
And now you should know
Whatever your dilemma may be
You'll learn life is worth it watch the tables turn

Watch the tables turn
Ahh
Watch the tables turn
Ahh....
