Why are we so afraid to see
though those sparkling lights?
Is the world mesmerised
by a cheap illusion?
When will we find our way?
Is it all about survival?
Our lives - frail but exalting
When will they be ours?

Don't look away! Don't believe the world's the same! Every word, every way, every path will only
lead right black to you... oh what are you waiting for? Don't you know it's all about the road?

Will you weep over deserted
oceans - embracing a silent land?

Oh is it all about survival
Will you die last? Will you wish you dreamt a different past?

Oh tell me deep inside... do all wrong know right?
How long will we hide behind those lies?
