So long lovey eyes

Somehow we have found ourselves tonight with

No more happy signs

Hold your breath and hope for something better

We got so far away

From the fire that we started

How did we get so fking cold

So now ease your mind

All good things must have an ending, how we

Lived loved laughed and cried

But now those days seem like just a fantasy

We got so far away

From the fire that we started

How did we get so fking cold
