My old man's that old man
Spent his life livin off the land
Dirty hands and a clean soul
It breaks his heart seein foreign cars Filled with fuel that isn't ours and wearin cotton we didn't grow

He's got the red, white, blue flyin high on the farm
Spends a little more at the store for a tag in the back
that says USA
He won't buy nothin that he can't fix,
With WD40 and a Craftsman wrench
He ain't prejudice, he's just made in America

He loves his wife, she's that wife that decorates on the 4th of July
But says "Every day's Independence day"
She's golden rule, teaches school
Some folks say it isn't cool but she says the Pledge of Allegiance anyway.

He's got the red, white, blue flyin' high on the farm
Spends a little more at the store for a tag in the back
that says USA
He won't buy nothin' that he can't fix
With WD40 and a Craftsman wrench
He ain't prejudice, he's just made in America

Born in the heartland, raised up a family
Of King James and Uncle Sam

He's got the red, white, blue flyin high on the farm
Spends a little more at the store for a tag in the back
that says USA
He won't buy nothin that he can't fix
With WD40 and a Craftsman wrench
He ain't prejudice, he's just made in America

Made in America
Made in America

Yeah my old man's that old man

Made in America
