Bad love, she took a good shot
Heartaches, she's had a whole lot of tough breaks
No one could blame her if she holds out
She's a little worried to jump right in
She ain't in a hurry to try again
She's takin' time off from love

But every night
She cries just a little bit less
She tries just a little bit more

She's got every right
To wait until her heart has healed
And when she's ready
I'm here and I'm gonna hold her
Inch by inch, she gets a little closer to me
Every night

She's mad that she ever loved him
She's through and she's had enough of him
But it's true, he's gonna take some time gettin' over
But I don't mind the waitin'
Because I know, she's worth the time it's takin'
Our love will grow, we're makin' it day by day

And every night
She cries just a little bit less
She tries just a little bit more

She's got every right
To wait until her heart has healed
And when she's ready
I'm here and I'm gonna hold her
Inch by inch, she gets a little closer to me
Every night

Oh, every night
She cries just a little bit less
She tries just a little bit more

She's got every right
To wait until her heart has healed

And when she's ready
I'm here and I'm gonna hold her
Inch by inch, she gets a little closer to me
Every night, every night

Oh, she cries just a little
She tries just a little bit more
Every night, every night
