There's no need to apologize
This happens time and time again
As soon as somebody lays their eyes on her
They dive right in

And I watched you sneak a look
From the other side of the floor
And as I danced her bow
Watched you steal one more

You don't have to tell me she's beautiful
You don't have to say things like wanna be kind
You don't have to wonder if she loves me, man
I know that crossed your mind

Seems like everywhere we go
There's always somebody staring at her
Yeah, I know she hung the moon
I'm the one that held the ladder

Now if you had half a chance
You'd probably make a play
Oh, but if you were to ask her to dance
She'd only turn you away

So you never ever know
But buddy, if you were in my shoes
You'd see that she's
Just as pretty on the inside to

You don't have to tell me she's beautiful
You don't have to say things like wanna be kind
You don't have to wonder if she loves me, man
I know that crossed your mind

Seems like everywhere we go
There's always somebody staring at her
Yeah, I know she hung the moon
I'm the one that held the ladder

Yeah, I know she hung the moon
'Cause I'm the one that held the ladder

There's no need to apologize
This happens time and time again
