Maybe you were right
Maybe I could have changed
Sittin' here alone tonight
Thinkin' 'bout a lot of things

What's a man to say
When all the questions start
Hell I know deep down
Inside my broken heart

Could've tried just a little bit harder
Kissed you just a little bit sweeter
Held on just a little bit longer
Dug down just a little bit deeper

Let the world revolve around you
And given you the stars above
Loved you just enough to make you stay
And I'd have lost you anyway

I hate it when it's like this
Baby, it's like that now
Nothing I can say to you
You even care to talk about

How you gonna dress it up
Wrap it in a pretty bow
When it's gone, it's gone for good
Baby, at least I know

Could've tried just a little bit harder
Kissed you just a little bit sweeter
Held on just a little bit longer
Dug down just a little bit deeper

Let the world revolve around you
And given you the stars above
Loved you just enough to make you stay
And I'd have lost you anyway

Oh, let the world revolve around you
And given you the stars above

Loved you just enough to make you stay
And I'd have lost you anyway, I'd have lost you anyway
I'd have lost you anyway, I'd have lost you anyway
