I took Lisa down to the cafe
The one where we first fell in love
I played the same song that we used to dance to Hopin' it might be enough

But when I told her I was sorry
That only made it worse
Then the waitress came over and saw Lisa cryin'
Said, "Honey, what's the matter with her?"

There's nothin' wrong with her, she's perfect
She's as pure as she can be
She'd never say it
But the only mistake she ever made was me

It might appear to you she's broken
By the teardrops in her eyes
But there's nothin' wrong with her, she's perfect
I'm the one who made her cry

Could you please bring us two cups of coffee?
We might be here for a while
Make mine black and hers sweet as sugar
Something that matches her smile

She's already loved me for half of her life
She's never been untrue
So let me tell you before you ask her
If there's anything you can do

There's nothin' wrong with her, she's perfect
She's as pure as she can be
She'd never say it
But the only mistake she ever made was me

It might appear to you she's broken
By the teardrops in her eyes
There's nothin' wrong with her, she's perfect
I'm the one who made her cry

There's nothin' wrong with her, she's perfect
I'm the one who made her cry
