(New Terrain backwards)

Nervous, I know
(and I saw you running)
It seems everywhere you go
(to the wooden floors of my house)
They're out to get you
(in a way I couldn't see you)
And then you regret
(and they're not safe buildings)
Should have stayed at home in bed
(when the walls are out of focus)
Nervous instead
(and I wish that I could save you)
Each time

And you're so glad
No one can see
Inside of your tireless mind

Nervous, I know
(and I saw you running)
It seems everywhere you go
(in the wooden floors of my house)
They're out to get you
(in a way I couldn't see you)
And then you regret
(and they're not safe buildings)
Should have stayed at home in bed
(when the walls are out of focus)
Nervous instead
(and I wish that I could save you)
Each time
