Words are not enough

I guess i've never tried to tell you what my feelings are for you

all of them trapped in a song, all in this simple song.
I guess i've never figured out what all of those words would be

these are just not enough , these words are not enough.

Not enough! . . .

There's just one thing that you'll remember, all these words that i cannot say i love you and i will forever , every night i'm calling out your name.

I guess I would like to say to you, that you break my heart

each and every time you say: maybe this is not our time

And i cannot help but notice, the sparkle that comes from your eyes

even the stars above don't match what i feel for you tonight! Tonight.

There's just one thing that you'll remember, all these
words that I cannot say

"I love you and i will forever" , every night i'm calling out your name
