feat. E. Mason

"And that ended Doom's plans for world destruction!"

"And how did you manage to stop him?"

"Simple, I [...] rearranged the circuits"

"Once he threw the switch" *{*bang*}*

"My ability to attack is faster than the cobra..."

*{*dialogue fades*}*

"Very helpful."

"And I will be careful, not to make the same mistakes as Doom!"

[E. Mason]

What's the hero, who's the villain?

Dead or livin, killed or killin, who the fuck should remain chillin?

(Doom) Webster says, wicked and evil, but yo who's Webster?

Nihilation and outcast, equals freedom that's so fast

Culture in chains, that be the rolls villain plays

All these are just metaphors, they describe symbols in folklore

But who knows why it's like this?

Hero? Hit or old miss? Maybe it's all good

Really of God, but who should, determine the real

Evil, what's the deal

Fools rush in, they don't know the yin, from the yang

And are ashamed to deviate, or act sane

From the norm, they are slaves, forced to conform

To really find your essence, take this as a lesson

Break away from the rest of them

Get from the form ending, like the villain in the song

Find truth, who determines wrong

from right, without a fistfight

Different from day than from night {Operation...

Doomsday}

It's just a simple play on words

Delete all these punks ass herbs

Who's the hero, what's the villain?

The question still remains chillin

Listen to the music, try very hard to use it

Open up and research, and that's the end of this verse
But y'all niggaz keep y'all minds open out there

"So like fuck you, fuck the newspaper, fuck all that shit man!"

"I'm leavin" {"Good evening"}

"Yo why you want to be leaving man?"

"Man don't worry about that sucker, yo man listen"

"Yo I'm not gonna finish my piece man, not with this lady around man"

"Yo what the fuck is this shit man?"

"I don't like that shit man, I don't want no fuckin pictures taken of my shit man"

"Yo relax!"

"Nah man, that shit is fucked up man, that shit can get us busted over here man!"

"Relax man it's for the paper"

"NAH NAH I'm not gonna relax, I'm gettin the fuck out of here"

"Look, we got a car! She's got a car parked right over there man!"

"Let's get the fuck out of here!"

"Well come on let's go then!"

"Doom, .. to conceal his own mangled form, right?"

"Yeah"

"So like fuck you"

"Do yourself a favor.. do yourself.. trust me"
