So you can take a look in my crystal ball, Tell me what you see. Nothing at all. Because the past it's not last quite long enough. Didn't notice it would be so rough.

Ah, misspent youth, Time well spent. You can't find a life In just paying the rent

Now

Let's take it back to the early days,
When we were carefree
And oh so young.
Let's take it back to the memories,
Oh, when life seemed to be nothing but fun.

Now, Let's rewind to those times When we were happy.

Let this song bring back what seems to be gone, I said let this song bring back what seems to be gone

So you can take a glass of a champagne past which unfortunately Didn't last Because ignorance was bliss, Sealed with a kiss. I'd take my chance to dance With no need to resist.

Misspent youth, Tme well spent. You can't find a life In just paying the rent.

Now,

Let's take it back to the early days,

When we were carefree
And oh so young.
Let's take it back to the memories,
Oh, when life seemed to be nothing but fun.

Now, Let's rewind to those times When we were happy.

Let this song bring back what seems to be gone, I said let this song bring back what seems to be gone

Let's take it back to the early days, When we were carefree And oh so young.

Let's take it back to the memories, Oh, when life seemed to be nothing but fun.

You know, Let's rewind to those times When we were happy.

Let this song bring back what seems to be gone, I said let this song bring back what seems to be gone.
