"Unbearable Lightness Of Being"

There can be no rain without the sun
There can be no love if it's on the run
Can you stand the weight, the unbearable lightness of being?

There can be no day without a night
There can be no left without a right
Can you stand the weight, the unbearable lightness of
being?

(instrumental)

Will the politician turn your mind around
Will you give it up or will you stand your ground?
Can you feel the heat, the unbearable lightness of
being?

Goin' to California used to be this way
Savin' her rejection for another day
Can you stand the weight, the unbearable lightness of being?
