According to miss Hayes
There has been a mix-up
In hotel nr. 83, but they had to close it down
For no apparent reason
But I don't like this for a minute
And even all the greater fools are right now

She ain't got seventh graders in her hall
And who can see a light in there worth dying for
Tell us when you think you've got it right this time
And I'm older than you think
And I'm older than you think

Like some more and then you make out with miss
Hayes
And she will tell us what she knows
Cause she's been hiding and they will collapse
And they will freak you out
If you don't change your station
Rapidly in doubt man

Blue end green things bouncing up and down my walls
She told a lie, but never up to date man
Tell us when you think you've got it right this time
They've been around but never really showed They've been around

I am not into this, she told a lie
Right hand and over feet, she told a lie
Not into this, she told a lie
Right hand and over feet, she told a lie
