Ooh baby
There's a place you go after dark
Where you sell your haunted heart
In the shadows you look for the friend
Who'll take you where the sidewalk ends

And it's a sad affair
You reach out but no one's there

Tell me who's gonna take you home tonight
Take your hand and hold you tight
Who'll be the one to make it right
And promise you paradise

Tell me who's gonna take you home tonight
Turn the darkness into light
And wipe away the tears you cry
Just another stranger
Will be taking you home tonight, baby

You couldn't see that love was the price
What happened to the light in your eyes
Broken dreams fall at your feet
You stand alone on a dead end street

So who's gonna hear your prayer
Look around there's no one there

Tell me who's gonna take you home tonight
Take your hand and hold you tight
Who'll be the one to make it right
And promise you paradise

Tell me who's gonna take you home tonight
Turn the darkness into light
And wipe away the tears you cry
Just another stranger
Will be taking you home tonight

He'll tell you dreams come true
And take you to some rented room
But when the blinds are drawn

Another angel will fall

I guess it's in your blood
One love just ain't enough, no no no

Tell me who's gonna take you home tonight
Take your hand and hold you tight
Who'll be the one to make it right
And promise you paradise

Tell me who's gonna take you home tonight
Turn the darkness into light
And wipe away the tears you cry
I guess I'll be that stranger
Whose taking you home tonight

Hey baby, I'm taking you home tonight
Taking you home tonight
Oh baby, I'm taking you home tonight
Taking you home tonight
