Mother, I hope you're fed well you look pale It's such an awful shame that you and my two aunts couldn't get bail
And if you did, I'd give you such a hug the next time you saw me
I see no reason why these innocent people cannot be freed

And decency has left the courtroom
Oh mother please won't you come home soon

People are taking to the streets boldly
The country's going to bid farewell to the regime Arrest the city and forbid us to scream Seven years is not enough so give us 18

Putin knows what it feels to be guilty Although he wasn't jailed when he beat his wife in the late 80s
I know that mother's not a hooligan, least not quite so as he
I see no reason why these innocent people cannot be
freed

I saw that interview with Kerry McCarthy
She said mum spends 14 hours a day in court, just 5 asleep
They thought it's kind of strange she's not on holiday as an MP
I see no reason why these innocent people cannot be
freed
