Tom Shaw "Sanest Minds"

Visit "Sanest Minds" on MotoLyrics.com

They're coming out to get you Throw their widely known fallacies at you Manmade with a sententious appeal Never realise how they make you feel

You are the strangest kind
Too far you are you are
Too far to find
I saw the last time
Does anyone even realise
And you'll find that the sanest minds
And those left behind alike
Hide it away,
From the people who cannot unwind
Because today you'll find we're all the same

It's far from sensibility You're taking extra liberties And you efforts are no good, Now there is no place for neighbourhood

Because regardless of sense or sense of pride They'll undermine you all the time And you think that things can just be fine You're being taken for a ride
