You've left me so insecure
I don't know how I got this bored
It's not how I want to be
Oh how could you do this to me
And there's a table that has turned
No one expected that could work
You thought you got away
Oh no you didn't, now you'll pay

And now it's going round full circle
You dug a hole and now it's time to reap, what you've sewn
And now the grey sky has gone purple
Your dissatisfaction can only come from what you know

Now I'm still feeling bored
I don't know just quite what I saw
In anything you gave me
Oh how could you do this to me
And if there's one thing I have learned
It's not to expect very much
And now you've got away
But you're still gonna have to pay

Next time you try it on
Make sure you consider this one
Thing between you and me
Oh how could you do this to me
And as my mind would over turn
As I would listen to your words
You thought I'd given in
So you were wrong and I will win
