Your currency is poetry
So what have I?
In my dreams I'm as rich as a queen
And through my lens I paint you
In fathoms of golden threads
You have much more than me

I'd give anything to be such a vision to you
Wanna get in your head
That's where I'd be closest to you

Beautiful dreamer show me your world
I can go with you, deeper than any other girl
Starlight, fireflies, mountaintops or riversides,
I can give it to you
Show me the picture and I'll embody every hue
Beautiful dreamer I want to be someone to you
The girl of your dreams, and
The one that you tell them all to

You energy flows into me, now what am I?
Just the wind dropping seeds at your feet
And should you stay I'd shroud you in blankets of cover
Deliver you everything you need

I'd give anything to be such a vision to you
Wanna get in your head
That's where I'd be closest to you

Beautiful dreamer show me your world
I can go with you, deeper than any other girl
Starlight, fireflies, mountaintops or riversides,
I can give it to you
Show me the picture and I'll embody every hue
Beautiful dreamer I want to be someone to you
The girl of your dreams, and
The one that you tell them all to
