My hair was tangled and matted
From nightmares I tumbled for you
My heart was wild and frantic
And automatic for Anything you put me through

I was safe in my lonely obsession
For impossible situations
And you, you were too

When it's all been done will we ever have love?
When it's all been done
Will we ever  $\hat{A}$ - ever  $\hat{A}$ - ever
When it's all been done will we ever have love?
When it's all been done
Will we ever  $\hat{A}$ - ever  $\hat{A}$ - ever
My eyes were widened and panicked
From visions I had of the truth
My mind was rambling and manic
From adding up all the logical
Reasons I fell for you

I was safe in my calculations
For working you out of equations
As stuck on myself as I am stuck on you

The only truth that ever exists
Is the passion I feel when we kiss
And the only thing that ever is real
Isn't what we say, but how we feel
