

Tomorrow Never Came "Enemies"

Visit "Enemies" on MotoLyrics.com

What started this war?
How will it end?
We've thrown away our lives for more important things.
Your words are like bullets from the tip of your tongue
straight into my head.
Shattering my thoughts.

We will drown out our enemies they kept us from speaking
While they are sinking slowly we keep them from breathing
Lets make sure they never find just what they've been seeking
And in the end we will be the ones with hearts that are still beating

The only thing you have become is the enemy.
We will drown out our enemies one by one.

They kept us from speaking
We keep them from breathing
Just what they've been seeking
With hearts that are still beating

Visit Tomorrow Never Came page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.