Towards the end we start to feel like we did when it began.

Towards the end we start to feel like we did when it began.

We were meant to break, we were.

We were meant to fall.

How much can one man take?

I feel like I'm about to break.

I'm about to break.

We were meant to break, we were.

The cold of the night will be there to greet you.

The cold of the night will be there but I wont.

I won't be there.

I won't be there to see you off.

I won't be there.

We were meant to break, we were.

We were meant to fall.

How much can one man take?

I feel like I'm about to break.

I'm about to break.

I feel like I did in the beginning.

I feel like I did in the beginning.

We were meant to break.

We were meant to fall.
