I can't remember what I used to do
Before I met you and before I loved you
I can't remember what I used to do without you Seems that I loved you since time began
Now that I've lost you gotta learn to live again
But I can't remember what life was like without you Wonder if I kiss somebody then a long long time ago
Was I happy then oh was I lonely then now I really don't know
I must've been lonely I must've been blue
That's all I've got now since you said we're through
Now I can't remember a thing about life without you Wonder if I kiss somebody then...
