Time to wake up
Don't know what to wear
To my make up
Then I brush my hair
I eat the first thing
As I pin* my nails
And suddenly my heart starts beating
I think I need some air

Little frightening
As the lights go down
Almost show time
Curtains opening now
Spotlight hits you
I loose all my lines
And once again my heart starts beating
I think I need some air to start breathing

I'm getting butterflies
I'm floating on a dream
Now my world starts spinning
My heart pounds
So happy that I could cry
When I look in your eyes
Cause you keep giving me
You giving me butterflies

Intermission
Love scenes coming up
I am shaking
As the symphony arupts
Will I make it
Or will I fall apart
And once again my heart starts beating
I think I need some air to start breathing

I'm getting butterflies
I'm floating on a dream
Now my world starts spinning
My heart pounds
So happy that I could cry

When I look in your eyes
Cause you keep giving me
You giving me butterflies

I'm feeling terrified
No control
And now my world is shaking
The curtains close
And it tingles and tickles inside in my?

I'm getting butterflies
I'm floating on a dream
Now my world starts spinning
My heart pounds
So happy that I could cry
When I look in your eyes
Cause you keep giving me
You giving me...

I'm getting butterflies
Now my world starts spinning
My heart pounds
So happy that I could cry
When I look in your eyes
Cause you keep giving me, you
Cause you keep giving me
