It was summer
And I remember
We stole a way to that park
We talked for hours until blue skies got dark

It was winter
And I remember
You were making eyes at me
There were no place I was ever gonna righter be

Oh no
Through the seasons
Baby, somethings don't change
A dousin yellow roses
The sound of your name
No
Those days and years slip
Through our fingers like sand
Will I stay in love with you
With everything that I am

It was autumn
And I remember
When you called that day
In the heart of New York City
Put a smile on my face

It was spring time
And I remember
When you kissed me that night
Heaven heard my prays
I think you falling sweet lies

Oh yeah
Through the seasons
Baby, somethings don't change
A dousin yellow roses
The sound of your name
No
Those days and years slip
Through our fingers like sand

Will I stay in love with you
With everything that I am

And if ever
Days are talkers
Just remember tonight
If I forget myself
You still the love of my life

Oh oh
Through the seasons
Baby, somethings don't change
A dousin yellow roses
No
Those days and years slip
I still love you
Yeah I still love you
With everything that I am
