I've been counting scars, the scars above my heart
There's one for every time you crossed another rline
Two from the day, you said you'd walk away
Hundreds from the words, you said only to hurt

I've gotten by, I haven't cried
Not a single tear, Just glad that I got out alive
Now my one single fear, Is that I'll ever fall back
Into your minefield

Took a punch here standing tall
that's why you'll never see me crawl
I left it all, left It all behind me
I was sure I made it though
Then one look, one word from you
And now I've stepped into a minefield

I don't want no more, of neither love nor war
'Cause it is never worth, taking all the dirt I'm breaking the curse, only getting worse tired of all our rowels, I've laid my guns down

I've gotten by, I haven't cried
Not a single tear, Just glad that I got out alive
Now my one single fear, Is that I'll ever fall back
Into your minefield

Took a punch here standing tall
that's why you'll never see me crawl
I was sure I made it though
Then one look, one word from you
And now I've stepped into a minefield

Now I can see it's a trap
You should know I'm better than that 'Cause now I'll turn around, I won't look back 'Cause you should know I'm better than that

Took a punch here standing tall
that's why you'll never see me crawl

I was sure I made it though
Then one look, one word from you
And now I've stepped into a minefield

Took a punch here standing tall
that's why you'll never see me crawl
I was sure I made it though
Then one look, one word from you
And now I've stepped into a minefield (step into a minefield)
