Pretty
You begging me pretty please
And I have been on my knees while you have be a passer bye
Woohooo
And i mean really, cus really i gotta say.
Remember now you left me, so dry you reding lying eyes.
And you can't see, coz' your not smart.
Never the less you broke my heart.
All this passion and all this pain.
Just take it like a man and baby walk away.
And never look back, never look back never look back.
All this crying in New York rain.
It's just a bit pathetic when it's far too late.
To ever look back, never look back.
I'll never look back, never look look back for you.
Easy coz'easy come easy go.
And i know everybody you should know,
but i am gonna point it out.
That you can't see coz'your not smart.
Never the less you broke my heart.
All this passion and all this pain,
just take it like a man and baby walk away.
And never look back never look back,
never look back never look back.
All this crying in New york rain,
it's just a big pathetic and it's far too late.
Too ever look back never look back,
i'll never look back never look look back for you
