Always on time
Never too late
Gone for a while
But you're always worth the wait
Your present makes cold as change
I'm happy you're finally back - again

After summer must come fall
Winter's through and
Then comes you and raindrops bounce back to the sky
Sun goes down and then you rise
I'm living my dream, so I'm dreaming about life

Temperature's rising with your warm embrace
I'm soaking up every inch of your face
My worry seems to dissappear
Everytime you come near
Everytime you come near

After summer must come fall
Winter's through and
Then comes you and raindrops bounce back to the sky
Sun goes down and then you rise
I'm living my dream, so I'm dreaming about life

The time has come for you to leave
I wish that you could stay right here
But lucky for me I know
That you will be back next year
When raindrops bounce back to the sky
Sun goes down and then you rise
I'm living my dream, so I'm dreaming about life
I'm dreaming about life
