A little gnome never came around

To shine his little light

And show me what path to take in my life

Here I am

And I celebrate the world around me

All the people that have learned to live and help each other

No oge egos

There are some people that do good

And some that just do gold

Save it all up for a rainy day

But the imperial out house you canâ€Â™ t take it with you

While the black tea flows you listen to the jingle

Oh oh oil man

But it comes from the earth and some people starving

The economy feels your whip

While the oil and the taxman slide and slip away

CEOâ€Â™ s how about some help for the working

As you live so comfortably its pretty much a guarantee

That youâ€Â™ ve got bucks enough to help a few unlucky ducks

If your corporate plan can share a little

The world canâ€Â™t go on this way

This is not about the business youâ€Â™ re in

Itâ€Â™ s about weâ€Â™ re all one planet

Câ€Â™ mon and share

Itâ€Â™ s the 21st century youâ€Â™ d think by now

weâ€Â™ d think collectively

You fellas on top how much do you need

Share a little jingle with the poor folks thatâ€Â™ s all

A genuine protest song coming from the poor people

The poor people the poor people

If youâ€Â™ re making money off the planet

Might as well share it with the poor people

If we could change the world

And what comes from the earth just a little bit

Share the profit off it

And help a brother feel a little less pain

If a little bit of love could take the place of our money

If a little bit of love could take the place of our money

If a little bit of love could help a brother get the burden off his back I d love to change the world If we could change the world Whoâ€Â $^{\text{TM}}$ s in charge If we could change the world Canâ€Â $^{\text{TM}}$ t take your money with you I d love to change the world Yes IâÂ $^{\text{TM}}$ d love to change the world wouldnâÂ $^{\text{TM}}$ d love to change the world wouldnâA $^{\text{TM}}$ t every one Old clothes, a lump of coal, spare change, old clothes, a lump of coal
