I'm counting sheep whilst you sleep,
That's how late nights take effect, on me.
And I'm treading egg shells can't you tell,
I'm tryin'a be friends in my own worst hell
And I'm makin' wishes every day,
These four walls of life will not follow to the grave

And I'm counting sheep whilst you sleep,
That's how late nights take effect, on me.

I've built you so many things,
I've told you much more than you need to know,
Than you need to know,

I've built you so many things,
I've told you much more than you need to know,
Than you need to know.

And I'm climbing teeth, all the time,
Somebody let loose too much anger in this skull of mine,
My eyes ran the square every day,
As the big black, television screen gets it's wicked,
wicked ways,

I've built you so many things,
I've told you much more than you need to know,
Than you need to know, x2

I count sheep while you sleep,
And I chase tails in your dreams, x8

I built the castles to protect you
Yeaah I,
Built these four walls all around you, x4
