Sleep like a baby,
my little lady,
Dream till the sunrise
creeps into your eyes
Dream till the sunrise
Turns on the day.
In the Avenues and Alleyways
while you sleep there's a whole world coming alive Able and his brother, fighting one another in and out of every dive
The Avenues and Alleyways
where the strong and the quick alone can survive Look around the jungle see the rough and tumble Listen to a squealer cry
Then a little later in the morning paper Read about the way he died.
Wake up my pretty
Go to the city
Stay through the daytime safe in the sunshine stay till the daytime turns into night.
In the Avenues and Alleyways
Where a mans gotta work out which side he's on any way he chooses chances are he loses no one gets to live too long
Where the soul of a man is easy to buy everybody's wheeling everybody's steeling all the low are living high Every city's got em can we ever stop em some of us are gonna try.
