Suddenly it all to me she's not the same
I don't even know when she began to change
All the months together
Yet so far apart
If only we could get back to the start

I remember things we don't do no more
Maybe it is freedom she is looking for
If only she could tell me
Tell me what is wrong
And maybe once again we could be strong

Chorus:
She used to be the real thing
She always made your heart sing
No more
There she stands but she's not there
She says it's neverending
But I know she's just pretending
She's gone
There she stands but she's not there

Almost every evening we would tell the town
It moved so fast
My feet would hardly touch the ground
All the months together
Now we were apart
Only we could get back to the start!

Chorus

We were sharing so much fun
Love would lead the way
Would make it up as we went on
Just litte for the day
Now I look into her eyes
And there is no mistake
She tries the best
But she can't hide
I hope it's not too late

Chorus

She used to be the real thing
She always made your heart sing..
