"Time To Kill"

In the kingdom of dead men, in the darkness of night,
In the blackness of the mirror, no reflection in sight.

I wanna know where did we go,
Please believe me, cause I don't know.
Since you left me, I can't keep still.
So much time, time to kill.

In the moment of waking, I can sense you are near.
Life, like smoke disappearing, I confess it's not clear.

Since you left me, I don't exist.
I blame myself, I let it slip,
And I lost the reason, I lost the will,
Got so much time, time to kill.

So absolute, the shadow black,
I want you near, I want you back.
Since you left me, I can't keep still,
So much time, got time to kill,

And now, I don't exist,
I blame myself, I let it slip.
I lost the reason, and lost the will,
Got so much time, time to kill.

I got so much time to kill.
