Why love, why love, why

Why love, why love, why

If found the road to hell,

And it passes by my window

So many numbed by your magic spell

Like me they tried to find

A way to your door

They cry all night and curse the kiss

That changes love to emptiness forever

[CHORUS]

Why love, why love, why

I thought we're living as branches

On the same tree

Why love, why love, why

Why take the only thing

That belongs to me
