I feel so alone now each time i look at you (do you feel no pain)
where is the realness that deep-rooted realness you mask in vain (you show the right smile, you got the act down) there've been many-a-night when i have cried on my own the struggle inside you give me is not unknown

You go through the motions you know the right words to say (you've trained yourself well) you scoff at the heathens but deep you inside you are exactly the same (why?why?why?)
is there no difference in the way we should live instead of loving ourselves it's His love we should give (i think you know that) I can only imagine what He feels when He looks at us his hurt is so great as the tears fill his eyes i know you know about the love He has for me and you but how can we show others when we're living a lie

How long can this go on when will we stop kidding ourselves (and face the real world) we've got to do something and show them the one true love that we've felt (from God's only son) my head and my heart these convictions they share we've got to throw down the false painted faces we wear

When will you stop stop living a lie
don't you know it hurts me inside when will you admit admit and realize that you're living a lie

From the single.. 'Love falling down'.
