And is it strong enough to erase all your best. And is it good enough to replace all the rest. Is there any substance through this bitter end. Is there any substance through this better end. My friend ... got you open now. You've been looking out for so long. You forgot she'll feel bad. If it's any comfort, you're losing your friend. If it's any comfort, you're losing your friend. All again ... got you open now. You've been looking out for so long. Forgot what it was like to help yourself. I dare you to walk away ... dare you to walk away ... now. I'm daring you.
