Am I asking too much? I just want you to carry my soul.
Am I asking too much? I just want you to carry my soul.
Forget what you've heard, there are lessons to learn.
Suffer your loss, don't forget what it cost. Do they rule your day over things that they say. If things get too hard ... just become what you are. Do you think you'll find peace, when you close you eyes. Off to the world, when I'm not the one being burned by your sun. Don't count me out, just because you have doubt. Don't fill your grave with the life of a slave. If you fall too far, just become what you are. Won't you take time to open up to all, The better things you can do so your life won't fall through. We all have our past, and know good things won't last. Choices we've made over people who stayed, If you fall too far, just become what you are.
