Verse 1

It's times like these we start to forget
The things that we were and the time we spent
Chasing dreams
It's times like these when the air is too cold
It's hard to be young when you're already old
Forgetting dreams

Pre chorus

We know who you are inside
We know who you are

Chorus

The days they grow, few and far between
The person I am and who I want to be
You know what they say sometimes
Your everything is everything but enough

Verse 2

It's times like these watching waves hit the shore
Pretending they're young and you're
Chasing dreams
Living in the past you don't dare to forget
The things that we were and the time we spent
Chasing dreams

Pre chorus

We know who you are inside
We know who you are

Chorus

The days they grow, few and far between
The person I am and who I want to be
You know what they say sometimes
Your everything is everything but enough
Your everything is everything but enough (we know)
So for old time's sake let's be nothing at all (we know)
