Why so blue
Why do you start to break
Under a misty moon
Under your skies of grey
Well, in this life, you know
Storms are bound to come
But try not to worry about it
Sun's gonna shine again
Love won't leave you out in the rain
So walk that road
Remembering you're not alone
You got someone to lean on
Something to call your own
Just have a little faith and then
When the clouds roll in
You won't have to worry about it
Love's gonna shelter you
Love won't leave you out in the rain
Repeat
And when life seems to lose all rhythm
Love'll show you how to dance
Given half a chance
And given time, in love you'll find
A peaceful place, a friendly place
A harbor on the sea of loneliness
Mark my words
Love's gonna cover you
And when you're stuck, in the dead of night
Love's gonna pull you through
And I'll be the one you know
Sayin' "I told you so"
And life will be easier livin'
Once you begin to learn
Love won't leave you out in the rain.
