So this is the time
I see them closer now
Great ships coming right at us
Now there is no return

The first of canon blasts
The first of hundreds to come
The first of ships been hit
The first of many to go down

Of all that I have seen
And all that I have believed
Nothing has been the bad

All this confusion
And the chaos all around
Still there is no panic
Somehow I still carry on

The first of canon blasts
The first of hundreds to come
The first of ships been hit
The first of many to go down
