And the darkness arrives
Bringing hunger and cold
Nuclear winter... acid rain
Powerous men to dust
Marked land by blood
Owing to the warlords

And the conscious few
Just think and cry
And the darkness...
... hides the light

Deads in the ground
Other searching for food
Hunger generates the madness
And start a macabre banquet
This men were a major people
Now return cannibals

And the conscious few
Just think and cry
And the darkness...
Hides the light

Advertising a new age of terror
Dark angels provide a mortal dusk
Warning over gruesome diseases
A heritage of power and lust
The world can't understand
And the dark sows
Seeds of hate to grow

The peace makes way to war
Dark tales written with much gore
And the pain spreads more and more
And the dark angels sow
Darkness hides the light

Deaths, bloody battles, great damage
Cry in the land out salvage
Only there is place to the rage
Seeds of hate to grow

Darkness hides the light
