Each of the stars you see has a sun like our own
They may have come from one of these
They keep men obedient like sheep
I came here to see and report back

Truth unknown, only sight of ruthless metal monsters
I will not be capped, don't tell if you're trapped
League of freemen, carries the semen
The three-legged menace will fall

The weight pulling us down is even greater here and the heat is like a blast furnace
Those pyramid structures must be buildings

So far we know, the masters are inside

Truth unknown, only sight of ruthless metal monsters
I will not be capped, don't tell if you're trapped
League of freemen, carries the semen
The three-legged menace will fall
