My dear, there's no concealing
That you've won my heart
Still I have a feeling
That someday we'll part
Will our fair sun break up
And fell like the dawn?
Will I some morning wake up
To find you are gone?
Though you hold me in your arms tonight
Will tomorrow bring the same delight?
Though we love each other
How long will it last?
You are like a burning flame to me
Will you always be the same to me?
Though I taste your kisses
How long will they last?
Whatever you may do
This heart of mine is true
I'll still believe in you
No love go past
With you happiness and bliss appear
All my troubles seem to disappear
Yet my constant fear is
How long will it last?
Whatever you may do
This heart of mine is true
I'll still believe in you
No love go past
With you happiness and bliss appear
All my troubles seem to disappear
Yet my constant fear is
How long will it last?
How long will it last?
