There will be rainbows, there will be sunsets And there'll be parties and fireworks and music enough to dance
And there'll be chances to take, money to make

Out in the madding crowd you'll be allowed to push and shove
There will be laughter, there will be heartache No one to follow your rivers, through mountains to oceans wide

But don't forget little man, keep this if you can Listen and please be wise, no matter what the price you're dreamin' of
Make time enough for love, time enough for love

But don't forget little man, keep this if you can Listen and please be wise, no matter what the price
you're dreamin' of
Make time enough for love, time enough for love
