

Michael Feinstein

"You're All The World To Me"

Visit "You're All The World To Me" on MotoLyrics.com

Everywhere that beauty glows, you are Everywhere an orchid grows, you are
Everything that's young and gay
Brighter than a holiday
Everywhere the angels play, you are

You're like Paris in April and May
You're New York on a silvery day
A Swiss Alp as the sun grows fainter
You're Loch Lamond when autumn is the painter

You're moonlight on a night in Capri
And Cape Cod looking out at the sea
You're all places that leave me breathless
And no wonder, you're all the world to me

You're Lake Como when dawn is a glow
You're Sun Valley right after a snow
A museum, a Persian palace
You're my shining Aurora Borealis

You're like Christmas at home by a tree
The blue calm of a tropical sea
You're all places that leave me breathless
And no wonder, you're all the world to me

Visit Michael Feinstein page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.