When circumstance divides us
I always close my eyes
My thoughts retrace
The image of your face
Somehow our love survives

Now we're in our prime
And it's once upon a time
Paper lanterns in the trees
The photograph is framed
But the feeling's still the same
I'm there for you
And you're always there for me

After the hero stumbles
After the lady cries
After the fortress tumbles
Somehow our love survives
Somehow our love survives

Each time we touch each other
The chemistry revives
Each kiss contains
An energy exchange
Somehow our love survives

Now we're in our prime
And it's once upon a time
Paper lanterns in the trees
The photograph is framed
But the feeling's still the same
I'm there for you
And you're always there for me

After the hero stumbles
After the lady cries
After the fortress tumbles
Somehow our love survives

Now we're in our prime
And it's once upon a time
Paper lanterns in the trees

The photograph is framed
But the feeling's still the same
I'm there for you
And you're always there for me

After the hero stumbles
After the lady cries
After the fortress tumbles
Somehow our love survives

(Somehow)
After the hero stumbles
(Our love survives)
After the lady cries
(Somehow)
After the fortress tumbles
(Our love survives)
Somehow our love survives

(Somehow)
After the hero stumbles
(Our love survives)
After the lady cries
(Somehow)
After the fortress tumbles
(Our love survives)
Somehow our love survives

Somehow our love survives
Somehow our love survives
Somehow our love survives
