

Toward The Storm "Waters"

Lay down and breath hard
With shattered lungs you
Wont last long

We sail these waters
Without a compass
It's heavy now
If you pull you'll fall

You know that if you pull
You know that if you pull
You will fall

The sky is growing dark now
The weights are heavy now
We're riding it fast now
We're almost through it now

Don't look back
Your eyes might turn to glass
Don't look back
Your eyes might turn to glass

The weights are heavy now
We're riding it fast now
We're almost through it now

We sail these waters
Without a compass
It's heavy now
If you pull you'll fall
